

Doing business in the Middle East

Orador:

Nidal Darwish

University: Al-Quds University, Palestine

Moderadora:

Patrícia António

UTAD/CETRAD

10 de outubro de 2019 | 11:00 h
Sala 2.23 do Polo I da ECHS | UTAD

SPID

Seminário Permanente de I&D

Nidal Darwish

Nidal Darwish was born in Palestine, and he received the Ph.D. degree in economics and management of technology from the University of Bergamo in Italy, and the master degree in business administration from Al-Quds University in Palestine, and B.A in business administration from Bethlehem University in Palestine. Currently, he is an assistant professor at Al-Quds University, Palestine. His main areas of research interests are entrepreneurship, family business, developing countries, international business, high - growth firms, and marketing. Moreover, he has a great deal of experience in teaching since he has worked in this field for more than ten years, and he taught more than 20 different courses in management, marketing, and entrepreneurship. Currently, he teaches Advance Marketing Management, International Business, and Business Essentials.

Current research

- 1) High-growth Entrepreneurial Firms in Extreme Context: the Case of Palestine. Co-authors: (Mattias Nordqvist, Jonkoping University & Tommaso Minola, Bergamo University.
- 2) International Opportunity Perspective on Internationalization of Family Firms in Developing Countries
- 3) How do Islamic religious beliefs influence social capital in family firms? Co-author: Naveed Akhter, Jonkoping University..